LOCAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Virginia regulations for both special and gifted education require the establishment of an advisory committee. In Charlotte County, these committees have been consolidated into one committee. The committee is composed of parents, community leaders and school personnel who volunteer their time and effort to assist the school division in developing and implementing programs for special education and gifted students. The school board approves the committee members. An attempt is made to balance the committee for geographic and ethnic representation. The committee meets, at a minimum, three times each year. All meetings are open to the public. Information as to the meeting dates, times and places may be obtained by calling Dr. Lawrence Randolph at 434-542-9503.

The committee has many functions which include:

- Advise the school division of unmet needs in the education of special education and gifted students.
- Assist the school system in the formulation and development of long-range plans designed to provide needed educational services for special and gifted students.
- Participate in the development of priorities and strategies for meeting identified needs.
- Provide periodic reports and recommendations regarding the education of special and gifted students to the division superintendent; and,
- Assist the school system in interpreting plans to the community.

The community may express their views to the committee by writing Dr. Lawrence Randolph C/O Charlotte County David Bruce Building, 600 David Bruce Ave., Charlotte Court House, VA 23923 and requesting to be placed on the agenda of one of the committee meetings. Any member of the community wishing to serve on the advisory committee should contact the below school personnel.
